

Videography Production, A.A.S

Associate of Applied Science Degree (A219)

Technical Requirements	39
MN Transfer Curriculum	15
Electives	6
Total Credits	60

Program Description

Video production and business marketing are now one field. CLC Videography is designed to simulate an actual production environment creating content for all media entities. We have a large client base who demand high-quality online social media content. Our students produce authentic videos for actual clients on a regular basis. They learn to distribute visual content in current online platforms for marketing purposes. The curriculum emphasizes lab-based learning in a predominantly online environment. Many courses can be taken entirely online. Others include intensive in-person workshops. Classes have flexible lecture schedules and labs can be performed remotely. Our goal is to make it easy to prepare for entry-level careers in new media.

Program Outcomes

By completing this program, students will achieve the following learning outcomes:

- Recognize and apply knowledge in script writing, camera operation, sound recording, editing, and production design for video applications;
- Utilize contemporary video production equipment and software for videography and social media platforms;
- Create visually artistic motion graphic designs for all types of programming;
- Develop an understanding of basic marketing principles adaptable to social media distribution;
- Create content specific to social media marketing;
- Analyze and apply appropriate lighting techniques for all types of media;
- Encode video files for distribution to broadcast, web, and digital recording.

Career Opportunities

Nationally and regionally, the industry is in a dramatic growth period with the explosion of internet and mobile delivery options. Organizations are increasingly turning to web-based video conferencing for communications. Video content has become the de facto form of communication in business. According to Minnesota State CAREERwise, the outlook for editors, producers, directors, graphic designers and social media directors is for high growth between 2016 & 2026. Our focused approach to hands-on learning at Central Lakes College ensures graduates are positioned for successful entry into the industry.
